

Censorship

Direct Censorship

- Government monopolization - government owns TV stations, radio, and newspapers. This has become harder due to the internet.
- Prepublication review - most governments have laws restricting the publication of information that harm national security
- Licensing and Registration - begins as a means to control media with limited network bandwidth (radio station)
  - However, controlling bodies such as FCC also censor or ban content on platforms wishing to obtain licenses

Self Censorship

- A group deciding for itself not to publish content for whatever reason.

Challenges posted by the internet

1. Unlike traditional 1-many media, the internet supports many to many communications
2. The internet is dynamic
3. The internet is huge
4. The internet is global
5. It is hard to distinguish between children and adults on the internet

Freedom of Expression

Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the government for redress of grievances

Note 0.1

Freedom of expression is not an absolute right.

Protection is not given to “libel, reckless or calculated lies, slander, misrepresentation, perjury, false advertising, obscenity and profanity, solicitation of crime, and personal abuse or fighting words”
